

Enfield goalkeeper Alex Welsh safely gathers the ball under pressure from Wycombe striker Terry Glynn in Saturday's 1-1 draw at Loakes Park. Wycombe led through a Jimmy Jacobs goal until injury time when the champions equalised with a disputed penalty.

F.A. Cup preview

Going by car?

HUNDREDS of Wycombe fans are expected to follow their side to Worcester, many of them going by car. For those travellers, here are the instructions to the ground.

Follow the A44 into Worcester. Turn right at traffic lights onto City Walls Road. Follow signs to Bromsgrove (A38). Turn left at the end of City Walls Road and then right past Foregate Street Station (still A38).

Then turn right off A38 into St George's Lane North. Follow signs to the football ground.

Motorists are advised to leave plenty of time because Worcester races are on tomorrow.

League tables

WYCOMBE winger Tony Price, who departed for France saying he would not be back for six months has returned after a fortnight — and could make the side for their F.A. Cup fourth qualifying round tie at Worcester City tomorrow (Saturday), writes MICHAEL KNOX.

Price's sudden and shock return, the reasons for which he politely declined to explain, means that manager Mike Keen has another option in his forward line.

Asked whether Price would play at Worcester, Mr Keen replied: "It all depends on his fitness but he will probably be in the squad." That seems to indicate that provided Price trained hard on Wednesday, and played well in the five-a-sides last night, he would be in the side.

Wycombe will certainly need the services of a winger, because new signing Ken Wilson from Hounslow, who made his debut on Tuesday night, is cup-tied for both the F.A. Cup and Trophy.

Concern

Mick Hollifield, who also likes playing wide on the left must be doubtful after a leg injury. So Price could well be set for a most dramatic return.

With youngsters Jimmy Jacobs and Bob Dell settling down to their mid-field roles, Wycombe's main concern is the defence, which has made an unhealthy number of errors in recent games.

Much depends on the form of Steve Hardwick, who is prone to casual lapses. But perhaps the importance of the occasion will bring out the best in the former Altrincham defender.

Worcester assistant coach Dave Roberts watched the Enfield match and proclaimed afterwards:

"I think we'll win. But it won't be easy because they are a good spoiling side even at home."

He pinpointed Steve Long and Terry Glynn as the men to watch but was critical of the Blues defence which, he said "just hope to clear their lines. They weren't at all constructive."

This sounds like confident talk but could just be a morale booster for a Worcester, who have had a disappointing start to the season in the powerful Alliance Premier League.

Brilliant

Following their 1-0 defeat at Stafford Rangers on Tuesday night, Worcester are placed midway with four wins and four defeats in nine games.

According to witnesses that midweek defeat would have been even heavier but for a brilliant performance by former Aston Villa goalkeeper Jim Cumbes, who was playing his first game since returning from a cricket tour of the West Indies with Worcestershire.

Worcester's main problem this season has been a lack of goals. For that reason manager Nobby Clark is likely to make Steve Crompton substitute. The former Football League striker has struggled to score.

Interested

Meanwhile the club are interested in Southend Reserves striker Mick Tuohy, who might attract a £10,000 bid. Of course there is no chance of him playing against Wycombe.

Their left back Tony Billingham injured a groin and is definitely out of the side for the Wycombe game, which seems likely to be Cumbes, Selby, Bevan, Phelps, Tudor, Lowe, Stevens, Williams, Telford, Beresford, Wright. Sub: Crompton.

This time last year Wycombe won 2-0 away to another Alliance side, Barnet. They will be hoping for a repeat tomorrow.

The replay, if necessary, will be at Loakes Park on Tuesday.

Two home ties

MARLOW and Chalfont St Peter were given home ties in the second round of the F.A. Vase when the draw was made on Wednesday, but Burnham travel away.

Marlow have the most attractive fixture, entertaining Berger Isthmian League side Molesey. But Marlow, who have not had the best of fortunes in the league this season, must fancy their chances. Molesey are bottom-but-one in Division Two and have been exempt up to this round.

Chalfont St Peter have drawn Rushden Town, one of the United Counties League's leading teams. Chalfont have, like Marlow, struggled to find their form in the league this season.

Burnham, who have not yet played in the competition face a tough trip to Park of Swindon who play in the Wiltshire County League and won the title two years ago.

All matches are to be played on November 22.
